Join us for cookies, coffee, and conversation in the Powell Rotunda at our first annual Conversation Café! As part of International Education Week 2017, we’re hosting a café space to discuss topics of global importance with international students, students who have studied abroad, and any other students interested in joining the discussion.

Potential topics of discussion may include, but are not limited to:

- DACA/undocumented students
- Studying abroad
- LGBTQ+ culture abroad
- Being an international student
- Refugees and refugeeism
- Coming to the U.S. from a developing country
- Speaking other languages
- Religion
- Studying different disciplines in foreign countries

Come hear about the incredibly diverse experiences of UCLA’s international and study abroad students and join in the discussion!
