Ending the Korean War
A Conference

This year, 2013, marks the 60th anniversary of the signing of the Korean War Armistice Agreement, which brought a halt to the fighting. However, the Korean War has never ended, and the current crisis only emphasizes the danger of renewed hostilities.

Thursday, May 9, 2013 | 9:30 AM - 5:00 PM
Main Conference Room, Charles E. Young Research Library

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 9:30 – 9:40 | Welcome
John Duncan, UCLA
Christine Hong, Korea Policy Institute and UC Santa Cruz |
| 9:40 – 10:20 | Keynote Address
Bruce Cumings, University of Chicago |
| 10:20 – 12:00 | Panel 1: Testimonials (moderated by Namhee Lee, UCLA)
Moon Jae Park, MD, US-North Korea Medical Science Exchange Committee
The Rev. Syngman Rhee, National Council of Churches USA
George and Dorothy Ogle, former missionaries to Korea
James Chun, Korean American resident of LA and separated family member |
| 12:00 – 12:30 | Teaching Initiative to End the Korean War Workshop
led by Albert Park, Claremont McKenna College and Alliance of Scholars Concerned about Korea |
| 12:30 – 1:15 | Lunch |
| 1:15 – 2:50 | Panel 2: Gender and Militarism (moderated by Sung-ok Lee, United Methodist Church)
Young Hee Jeong, peace activist from Jeju Island
Hosu Kim, City University of New York
Christine Ahn, Korea Policy Institute |
| 2:50 – 3:00 | Break |
| 3:00 – 4:20 | Panel 3: People-to-People Programs /North Korean Humanitarian Assistance (moderated by Christine Hong, Korea Policy Institute and UC Santa Cruz)
Pilju Kim Joo, Agglobe Services International
Indong Oh, MD, orthopedic surgeon, Los Angeles
Erich Weingartner, CanKor |
| 4:20 – 4:50 | Closing Discussion and Wrap-up Remarks
Paul Liem, Korea Policy Institute |

RSVP IS SUGGESTED